RE: Circuit Assembly

Att: Vince Blumenfeld

To Whom It May Concern,

Ever since we started our relationship with Circuit Assembly they have provided us with nothing but superb service. They are very prompt when it comes to answering inquiries. On top of that they have a wide variety of products that fit even the smallest of niches. So far I haven't experienced any issues with Circuit Assembly and recommend their services/products to any solar distributor who has a demand for solar connectors.

Please let me know if you need any additional information. doug@cedgreentechsd.com
